DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species III in the reply filed on January 5, 2005 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 18-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 18 depends from claim 15, which has been cancelled. Therefore, it is impossible to examine claims 18-21 on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3611

6. Claims 1, 12-14 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lekavich.

Lekavich discloses a medallion 16 having indicia (see column 4, lines 32-34), a puck (Fig. 2), and means 118, 120 for releasably engaging the medallion.

Regarding claim 17, as the medallion is screwed into position, it will always contact the bottom of the cavity.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lekavich.

Lekavich discloses the invention substantially as claimed, as set forth above. However, it is not known whether the indicia are placed upon the display surface by embossing.

Art Unit: 3611

Nevertheless, embossing is a well-known technique for placing indicia on a display surface, and its use would have been an obvious matter of choice in design.

10. Claims 3 and 7-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lekavich as applied to claim 2 above, and further in view of Novinsky.

Lekavich discloses the invention substantially as claimed, as set forth above. However, the medallion is attached to the puck via a threaded connection. Novinsky teaches that it was known in the art to attach a medallion to a puck-like device via a peripheral frictional engagement. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to attach the medallion disclosed by Lekavich to the puck via a peripheral frictional engagement, as taught by Novinsky, in order to obviate the need for manufacturing a threaded connection.

Regarding claim 10, Lekavich discloses the use of interchangeable indicia for the medallion. One such indicia could be called primary, and the other secondary.

Regarding claim 11, a human hand holding the puck in order to show it to someone else comprises means for displaying the puck.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
